THE LEGISLATURE.

The State College Appropriation Collides With A Veto.

INTERESTING FACTS ON TAX-ATION OF WILD LANDS.

Man in Aroostook Who is Disgusted With the Abundance of Game-The Banger Resolve Went Through the Senate Without Speech Making-Portland Merchants Remonstrate Against Abolishing Days of Grace.

(Special to the PRESS). Augusta, February 8 .- Governor Cleaves, this morning, surprised the legislature with a veto message, returning the bill giving hospital $2 a day and mileage of ten cents n mile for his services in visiting the insane at the State prison. The message, on motion of Mr. Prescott of York, was laid on the table to be printed. He estimates that each visit cost the state $24, and the visits may be made at the discretion of the superintendent. The Governor cites the increase of salary and the number of assistants of the superintendent by the past legislatures and regards the present bill in effect as still further increasing the salary, to which he is opposed.

The veto message calls attention again to the Governors's statement in regard to private and special legislation which will result in the tabling of a large number of measures until the legislature has acted upon the bills reported by the special commission. These bills are five in number. On one, that providing for the formation of trust and banking companies, the judiciary committee has reported "ought not to pass." The others are still before the committee. They provide for a commission with power to regulate the taking of fish and game in conformity with the general statutes, and for the formation of water ompanies, electric light and power com panies, and telegraph and telephone companies. They will undoubtedly be reported later in the session but probably not until the committee makes many changes in

The message came as a double surprise the Senate because several members who had had objections to the bill had withdrawn them, it is said on the understanding that the measure had the approval of the executive department. Senator Hume had proposed to table the measure and Senator shaw did so, but afterwards put it on its passage, so when they found that the Governor had refused to sign it they were

BANGOR GETS THERE.

The Bangor resolve went through the Senate without any speechmaking today, and is now on its passage to be enacted. Commander-in-chief Day of the Bangor forces, received many congratulations after the vote was taken and the faces of the Bangor man are wreathed in smiles. The vote resulted 15 to 7, but four pairs were announced which show nineteen Senators to have favored the measure and eleven to have opposed it. So the Bangor forces gained two over the seventeen of whom they claimed to be sure several days ago.

Yes—Senators Day, Engel, Ferguson, Hovey, Marston, Mitchell, Penney, Savage, Seiders, Shaw, Simpson, Spofford, Walls, Weeks, Wiggin—15.

No—Senators Cook, Gordon, Hill, Morrill, Prescott, Reynolds, Wood—7

Senators Ames, Huma, Jockson, A. M.

Senators Ames, Hume, Jackson and Nickerson, who were paired would have voted yes. Senators Higgins, Maxwell, Stone and Waterhouse would have voted no. Senator Harlow did not vote.

WILL TAKE A DAY OFF. The Senate today, voted to hold a ession at 9 a. m. tomorrow and then adjourn until Tuesday forencon. Senator Wood extended the invitation of the Portland Academy of Medicine to the members of the Senate to attend its banquet at the Maine Eve and Ear Infirmary Monday evening. Mr. Wood stated that special cars would be attached to Monday afternoon's train and the members would be taken to Pertland at the expense of the Academy of Medicine. The Grand Army men in the legislature have been asked to attend a Grand Army meeting in Lewiston on Monday evening. The invitation of the Academy of Medicine was mentioned in the House by Mr. Larrabee in explanation of his order for an adjournment from Saturday until Tuesday, and the House passed the order.

TAXATION OF WILD LANDS. In all the hunting over the state for some thing to tax, it is strapge that up to now the building erected in townships taxed as wild lands should have escaped. : The influx of the sporting fraternity into the woods has caused the creation of hotels and camps costing thousands of dollars, but far from towns and villages. Senator Mars ton has introduced a bill to provide for the taxation of such property as other real estate is taxed. Mr. Marston also introduced this week s bill to equalize taxation among wild lands owners. Under the resent law, a whole township is valued at a lump sum and each land owner pays in proportion to the number of acres he owns regardless of the fact that one man's timber may have been all cut and burned off while another's may be yielding a hand some return each year. Mr. Marston's bill provides for the valuing of the property of individual owners and the payment of taxes accordingly.

Mr. Marston today presented a third bill designed to remedy errors made by the state assessors in their valuations of wild lands. It provides that on the first day of May, in every other year, owners of wild lands shall file with the state assessors descriptions of their lands and describing their interest therein if less than the whole. Abstracts of descriptions of lands in deeds conveying the same are to be sent to the state assessors within thirty days after such sales. Upon application by the owner of any wild land who is dissatisfied with the state assessors valuation, the state assessors may appoint an expert in estimating timber ands in the vicinity of the land in question to explore and estimate the same. The owner may appoint another explorer at his own expense to accompany and assist the state's explorer. The state explorer shall

THE DEER MAY DRIVE HIM OUT. There is one man up in Aroostook county who doesn't want any more protection on deer. He says they are eating his grain and that with too many deer and too many appropriations, he feels discouraged. This is the letter he has written to Senator Shaw:

'Hon. R. W. Shaw, Augusta;
"Dear Sir-I thought I would write you today and ask if you think there will be one-half of the appropriations that are asked for granted. If it is so I am going to step out. What do the people of Aroostook want to appropriate $30,000 for the fish and game, for now where I live the deer are so plenty that they destroy the crops and the farmers dere not shoot them; if they do they will be fined; but sportsmen will sly in with dogs, chase the deer through our grain in the back fields, shoot what they want and off before any one is the wiser. Let the state look out for its deer or else let the farmers have a chance at them."

THE TOWN FIGHT. The committee on towns is falling heir to nearly all the fights of the session. Now come the people of that portion of Madison in which are located the big mills which have made that town so widely known, and say that they and the rest of the town canaround the village known as Madison bridge in the extreme western part of the town. The people of the eastern portion, it is said, have more dealings with the people of Skowgehan than they do with those in the western part of their own town. Now it happens that the people of Madison Bridge being anxious to stimulate manufacturing enterprises on their fine water power, have secured action by the town exemepting some of the mills from taxation, a proceeding which has been a common practice in many Maine towns, notwithstanding its doubtful legality. Some people in the western part of Madison do not look with favor on these exemptions, it is said, and threaten to upset the arrangement. The people of Madison Bridge and their immediate neighbors are of the opinion that it would be a breach of faith with the manufacturers to interfere with the promise exemption, and so they have asked that the legislature interfere and make them a town by themselves. As the people of the remainder of the town do not propose to let the seceders go without a struggle, the committee on towns will probably have a lively hearing. It is understood here that the Deering people who oppose the annexation of that city to Portland, will send a big delegation on the day of the hearing to express their sentiments. They also propose to see if they cannot get a majority of the legal voters of the city to sign remonstrances. They say that that would be equivalent almost to submitting the matter to the people As the bill to charter Cape Elizabeth as a city contains provisions for establishing a court and other matters, demanding the attention of a committee of lawyers, the attempt to have it transferred from the committee on legal affairs to the committee on towns has not succeeded, and the charter must be considered separately.

THE STATE COLLEGE APPROPRIATION When the resolve appropriating $25,000 annually for ten years for the State college came up in the Senate today, Mr. Spofford of Hancock, moved that it lie on the table, and it was so voted. Senator Spofford says he is opposed to legislation by one legislature making appropriations for its successors to provide for. The matter will be the subject of a contest in the Senate, and may not get through as easily as it slipped through the House.

They say this custom has been in existence for years, and being so thoroughly incorporated in our methods of doing business, it would lead to long continued and perhaps serious confusion and mistakes to change it. They furthermore say: "We can see no especial good to result from a change, unless there might be one western shippper, who could thereby draw money from the state a little quicker on his draft. Even with the three days of grace on his sight draft, he has the option, at the same time, to draw on demand if he can find a purchaser on demand terms."

Mr. Haines of Waterville, put in a bill providing that the presiding judge of any criminal term of the Supreme court may at the request of the county attorney, appoint a stenographer to take testimony before the grand jury. The compensation shall be the same as before the Supreme court.
Mr. Merrill of Portland, introduced a bill to amend the school text book law so that the parent or guardian may buy the text books at his own expense for the exclusive use of a pupil.

ONLY STAPLE TO DECLINE.

Other Lines are Strong With an Upward Tendency-Cold Weather Made a De mand on Seasonable Goods-Bank Clearings Aggregate $979,000.000-Damage by the Florida Freeze Has Been Exaggerated.

New York, February 8 .- Bradstreets tomorrow will say: Extremely low temperature, snow and high winds have visited the greater portion of the country this week and exercised a marked influence by restricting orders received by jobbers in all staple lines. They tended to stimulate the purchases of seasonable goods, and so some retailers who have been carrying small stocks contemplate clearing them out almost completely. General trade at larger eastern centres remain unchanged, except for the check to orders because of delayed railroad traffic, storms and cold. At Philadelphia not longer get along together. So they ask are reports of continued free sales of dry that the town be cut in two. Madison is a goods to western jobbers, and the volume of goods to western jobbers, and the volume of very large town, and it is nearly divided January trade is showing a favorable comby a pond. The mills are located in and parison with 1894. At Baltimore, bills sent to the South and Southwest on the first for dry goods, millinery, notions, clothing, shoes have been paid more promptly than was expected. A fair volume of business is doing in New Orleans, but collections are poor because of the non-payment of sugar bounties. No important change is reported from Memphis, Richmond, Charleston and Galveston.

AT THE WEST

General trade is disappointing at Cleve and, Chicago and Detroit, because of the check to February business. Cincinnati makes a more favorable report, and gains are shown in the iron and grocery trades, and activity is reported in leaf tobacco at Louisville. At St. Louis stocks of season able goods are being cleaned out, and some merchants contemplate ordering spring goods more freely. Trade in millinery, dry cods, shoes, hardware and groceries is fairly satsfactory

Omaha, Des Moines, Kansas City report relatively less activity. At Seattle trade in general lines is increasing, and collections are improving, but at Portland, Oregon, business continues depressed. San Francisco reports improvement, although with no great activity.

BANK CLEARINGS.

Bank clearings aggregate $979,000,000 this week, or 12 per cent more than the first week of February, 1894. When compared with the corresponding week of 1893, there is a falling off of about 21 per cent. Prices, in the main, have shown a favorable tendency and sugar alone of the more prominent staples has declined in price within the week. Even cotton remained firm at last week's closing quotations, and wool and coffee are unchanged. Prices are steady for pig iron and steel billets, but the request for the same is not equal to expectations, the improvement in this industry being in the demand for plates, bar and structural varieites. Live cattle and logs are firm with an upward tendency. particularly within a day or two. WILL ISSUE BONDS.

Cleveland Notifies Congress to that Effect.

Washington, February 8 .- The President sent a message to Congress today notifying it that he will issue bonds. He says: In accordance with the Revised Statutes. the details of an arrangement have this day been concluded with parties abundantly able to fulfil their undertaking whereby bonds of the United States authorized, under the act of July, 1875, payable in coir thirty years after their date, with interest at the rate of four per cent per annum to the amount of a little less than $62,400,000 are to be issued for the purchase of gold coin amounting to a sum slightly in excess of $65,000,000 to be 'delivered to the treasury of the United States, which sum added to the gold now held in our reserve will so restore such reserve as to make it amount to more than one hundred millions of dollars. Such a premium is to be allowed to the government upon the bonds as to fix the rate of interest upon the amount of gold realized at three and three-fourths per cent per annum.

A least one-half of the gold to be obtained is to be supplied from abroad which is a very important and favorable feature of the transaction. The privilege is especially reserved to the government to substitute at par within ten days from the date in lieu of the four per cent coin bonds, other bonds in terms payable in gold.

The whole building was occupied by Blair, although his illegitlmate work was principally carried on upon the three upper floors. He was turned over to the United States officers.

TO PREVENT QUACKS.

The Veterinary Surgeons Appeal for a Law to Restrict Practice.

(Special to the PRESS.)

Augusta, Me., February 8-Dr. George H. Bailey of Portland amused the judiciary committee this afternoon with an account of the recent trial of Dr. Maxwell in Portland in the case growing out of the treatment of one of the city's horses. When Dr. Bailey, who read from the newspaper account of the trial, came to the point where the red liniment was poured down the horse's ear to cure the colic, the committee smiled very audi-

The hearing was on the bill to forbid any person not a graduate of a veterinary school or college advertising or holding himself out to be a veterinarian.

Dr. F. W. Huntington of Portland, who spoke first, told the committee that the object of the veterinarians was to prevent quacks and other persons advertising themselves as veterinarians when they were not. It was not the intention to prevent owners of animals employing anybody whom they pleased to care for sick animals.

Dr. Bailey made the same explanation. and said that there were now about 25 educated veterinarians in the state, and six young men studying the profession with a view to settling here. After reading from the report of the Maxwell trial, Dr. Bailey said it was to prevent men who gave such treatment as was there described from calling themselves veterinarians. Messrs. Keegan and Parsons of the committee raised the point that the bill might prevent competent persons, not graduates of veterinary schools, from practicing. Dr. Bailey said that this was not the intention, and said that an amendment suggested by Judge Savage would be satisfactory.

Representative Howe of Milo, opposed the bill. He thought it was commonly worded to drive out of business many competent men for the advantage of a few. Dr. Bailey denied this and said that the novement had originated with the Society for the Protection of Animals, whos agents, Mr. Perry, would have been present ut for the weather. Representative Briggs of Auburn, told the Exports of wheat (flour included as wheat) committee how he once "got awfully fooled" by a quack, who assured him he could cure a spavin and would do so for
